

THE GALLERY

Looking like they're pleased with progress at Vere condominium in Long Island City are Eddie Shapiro, Henry Zilberman, Rafael Mordukhaev and Peter Ashe, the sales and marketing agents for 43-unit development. The building is now more than 70% sold. Nest Seekers International and Peter Ashe Real Estate have the co-exclusive sales and marketing contract for the FHA-approved Vere. Eddie Shapiro, president and CEO of Nest Seekers, commented, "Located only eight minutes from Midtown, Vere provides residents with spectacular waterfront views of Manhattan. "From the translucent, reflective blue-glass curtain wall to the penthouse gym with wraparound terrace, it offers the finest in boutique living."

The Corcoran Group hosted a table at the benefit for Foundation for Gender Specific Medicine. Back row: Emilio Ruiz, Angie T. Ruiz, Jasmina Jaffeer, Abdul Jaffeer. Front row: Paula Busch, Sharon Baum (Honoree), Pam Liebman, Julia Cahill, John Gasdaska, Dennis Hughes, Maria Pashby. Inset left: Fred Peters, president of Warburg Realty Advisors, and Alexandra Peters, Inset right: Zvia Glezerman, Prof. Marek Glezerman (Honoree) and Dr. Marianne Legato, Founder of The Foundation For Gender-Specific Medicine.

Photos by Richard Lewin.

Jacky Teplitzky, (right), a managing director and a top 10 real estate broker at Prudential Douglas Elliman, recently hosted a Friends of the Israel Defense Forces (FIDF) Real Estate Division. Teplitzky, a former drill sergeant in the Israeli army, is pictured with Second Lieutenant Maoz Heiferman, one of the many soldiers whom FIDF assists. Also at the event was Alon Ben-Meir, PhD, a senior fellow and the Middle Eastern Studies Project Director at the World Policy Institute.

CORE hosted a re-launch party at the Cammeyer conversion at 650 Sixth Avenue. Since taking over the project, CORE has signed eight new contracts at the pre-war landmark building. Pictured on the building's landscaped rooftop are (left) CORE agents, Fredrik Eklund and Emily Beare and below Michelle Diaz, director of marketing and sales for Madame Paulette®, James W. Thomas, sales associate with Halstead Property and Marian Mayers, associate broker with Halstead Property.

Michael Bolla and Michael Daniel (right) the team behind the renovation of The Chelsea Mansion at 436 W20th Street, partnered with Divalyscious Moms to host an event designed to help women dealing with divorce. The developers welcomed 75 women into their 10,000 s/f townhouse to hear a panel of experts discuss the issues of divorce. Above, panelist Janis Spindel, a matchmaker who offered advice dating after divorce; publicist Robin Dolch and broker Susan Hayes.

Photos by Adriel Reboh, PatrickMcMullan.com

